Wage and Hour Notice to Employees

Wage and Hour Act

Minimum Wage: $7.25 per hour

(effective 7/24/09)

Employers in North Carolina are required to pay the higher of the minimum wage established by state or federal laws. The federal minimum wage increased to $7.25 per hour effective July 24, 2009. Therefore, employers in North Carolina are required to pay the higher of the two minimum wages.

An employer may pay as little as $7.15 per hour to tipped employees so long as each employee receives enough in tips to make up the difference between the wages paid and the minimum wage. Employees must be allowed to keep all tips, except that portion of a tipped employee's tips that are retained more than 10%.

The employer must keep records and computations of tips as certified by each employee monthly or for each pay period. Without these records, the employer may not be allowed the tip credit.

Certain full-time students may be paid 90% of the minimum wage, rounded to the lowest nickel.

Overtime

Time and one-half must be paid to a employee after 40 hours of work in any one workweek with some exceptions. The state overtime provisions do not apply to certain types of employees and do not apply to employees classified as exempt under the FLSA. Exemptions may be found in NCGS § 95-25.3.

Youth Employment

Rules for youths under 18 years old and youth employment restrictions are located at www.labor.nc.gov.

Health and Safety Requirements: State and federal laws have protected youth workers by making it illegal for employers to have them in dangerous jobs. For example, non-agricultural workers under 18 years of age may not operate a forklift, operate many types of power equipment such as meat slicers, canning save, saws, banding, bolting, and other similar equipment. They also may not use a power-driven hand or floor cleaner or work from any height above 10 feet, including the use of ladders and scaffolds. Certain exemptions apply for Supervised Practice Youth Internships. For a complete list of prohibited jobs, please visit our website at www.labor.nc.gov.

Additional Rules: Rules for youths under 18 years old work between 11 p.m. and 5 a.m. when there is either the need to "excuse" why the employee gets written permission from the youth's parents and/or parents.

Additional rules for 14- and 15-year-olds are:

Where work can be performed: Retail businesses, food service establishments, service stations, restaurants, and other business. Work is not permitted in hazardous conditions or situations, or with excessive physical exertion. During 14 years of age cannot work in the pursuit of a business holding an ABC permit for the on-premises sale or consumption of alcoholic beverages, except that youth 14 years of age can work in the business granted a permit. The youth 14 years of age cannot work in the pursuit of a business holding an MDDN permit for an enforcement authority regarding labor union laws. For employees concerns regarding labor laws, contact the Regional Office of the National Labor Relations Board. The NLRB is an independent federal agency that protects the rights of private sector employees to join together, with or without a union, to improve their wages and working conditions. Required off-days:

Complaints

The department's Wage and Hour Bureau investigates complaints and may collect back wages plus interest if they are due to the employee. The state of North Carolina may bring civil actions against the employer for violation of the law. The employer may also sue the employee for back wages. The court may award attorney fees, costs, remedial damages and interest.

Anyone having a question about the Wage and Hour Act may call:

1-800-NC-LABOR (1-800-625-2267)

Employee Classification

Any worker who is defined as an employee by the N.C. Wage and Hour Act (N.C. Gen. Stat. 95-25.40), the N.C. Employees' Fair Classification Act (N.C. Gen. Stat. 95-100 et seq.), the N.C. Workers' Compensation Act (N.C. Gen. Stat. 97-27-320), or the N.C. Revenue Act (N.C. Gen. Stat. 105-183.104) shall be treated as an employee.

Any employee who believes that he or she has been misclassified as an independent contractor by his or her employer may report the suspected misclassification to the N.C. Industrial Commission by calling 1-800-625-2267 or by writing to the N.C. Wage and Hour Division, 1233 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27609-4333.

Employee Classification

North Carolina is an employment-at-will state. The term "employment-at-will" simply means that unless there is a specific rule or statute or an employment contract providing otherwise, then an employer can treat its employees as it sees fit and the employee can discharge an employee for any reason or no reason at all.

Right-to-Work

North Carolina's "right-to-work" Right-to-work applies to collective bargaining or labor unions. The right of persons to work cannot be denied or reduced in any way because they are either members of a labor union (including labor organization or labor association) or chosen not to be a member of any such labor union. An employer cannot require any person as a condition of employment to join a labor union or to pay dues or fees to any organization or any labor union. An employer cannot enter into an agreement with a labor union whereby its non-union members are denied the right to work for the employer. (2) membership in a labor union is not a condition of employment or (3) the labor union does not discriminate in hiring or employment practices.

MDDN has an enforcement authority regarding labor union laws. For employees concerns regarding labor laws, contact the Regional Office of the National Labor Relations Board. The NLRB is an independent federal agency that protects the rights of private sector employees to join together, with or without a union, to improve their wages and working conditions. ### Retaliatory Employment Discrimination

The department's Retaliatory Employment Discrimination Division investigates complaints filed by employees against their employers for alleged violations of the N.C. Retaliatory Employment Discrimination Act (REDA). Under REDA, an employer may not retaliate against an employee for举报ing a discriminatory practice, such as filing a claim or initiating an inquiry, related to:

• Workers' Compensation Claims

• Wage and Hour Complaints

• Occupational Safety and Health Complaints

• Mine Health and Safety Complaints

• Genetic Testing Discrimination

• Sexile Cell or Housekeeping C. Carrives Discrimination • N.C. National Guard Service Discrimination

• Participation in the Juvenile Justice System

• Exercising Right to Domestic Violence Laws

• Family and Medical Leave Act

• Free Paraprofessional Complaints

Employees who believe they have been retaliated against in their employment because of activities under the above statutes, or employers who have questions about the application of REDA, may call:

1-800-NC-LABOR (1-800-625-2267)

A REDA complaint must be filed with the agency within 180 days of the retaliation.

Notice to Employers / Employees

Your state does not enforce wage laws which require posting a notice regarding the aspects of that law. Employers are still required to meet the Federal Minimum Wage, federal Overtime Pay, and the Family and Medical Leave Act as set in the state plan. According to the N.C. Department of Labor, the state plan does not meet the federal minimum wage rates; the higher standard applies.

This Posting is for Informational Purposes Only

Wage and Hour Notice to Employees and OSH Notice to Employees must be posted together.

OSH Notice to Employees

Safety and Health

N.C. Department of Labor Responsibilities

The state of North Carolina has a federally approved program to administer the Occupational Safety and Health Act in North Carolina. This program is administered by the N.C. Department of Labor, Occupational Safety and Health (OSH) Division.

The OSH Division has the responsibility to conduct workplace inspections that can be triggered by complaints, accidents or because the workplace has been randomly selected for an inspection.

Contesting Penalties: Once an employer has been cited, he or she may request an "informal conference" with OSH officials to discuss the penalty. After the informal conference, if the citation is upheld, the employer must file with the N.C. Wage and Hour Division a contest of the citation.

The employer may formally contest a "Notice of Contingent" (the citation) or proposed penalty to the N.C. Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission. The Review Commission is an independent body that hears and decides contestants by employers and employees concerning citations, abatement periods and penalties.

Employers wishing to know about the procedures for filing a "Notice of Contingent" should contact the N.C. Wage and Hour Division, Telephone: 919-739-3550. Website: www.labor.nc.gov

Injury and Illness Records: Employers with 11 or more employees, unless specifically exempted, are required to maintain updated occupational injury and illness records of their employees. Recordkeeping forms and information concerning these requirements may be obtained from the Education, Training and Technical Assistance Bureau, N.C. Department of Labor, Call 1-800-625-2267 or 919-737-7676.

Accident and Fatality Reporting: An employer must report the following:

Within 10 hours: Any work-related injury.

Within 24 hours:

• Any work-related in-patient hospitalization of one or more employees.

• Any work-related amputation.

• Any work-related loss of an eye.

To report an accident, call the OSH Division at 1-800-625-2267 or 919-739-3550.

Employee Rights and Responsibilities

Public and private sector employees have a "general duty" to provide their employers with workplaces that are free of recognized hazards likely to cause serious injury or death. Employers must comply with the OSHA safety and health standards adopted by the Labor Department.

Inspections: An employer has the right to refuse to allow an inspector to enter the workplace without an authorized warrant or search warrant. In this occurs, the inspecting OSH official will obtain a warrant to conduct the inspection. The employer has the right to accompany the inspector during the physical inspection.

Discrimination: It is illegal to retaliate in any way against an employer for raising a health or safety concern, filing a complaint, reporting a work-related injury or illness, or allowing an inspector to enter the workplace. The inspecting OSH official will investigate any potential violations who take place.

Citations: If an OSH inspection results in one or more citations, the employer is required to promptly and prominently display the citation(s) at or near the place where the violation allegedly occurred. It must remain posted for three working days or until the violation has been corrected or abated, whichever is longer.

Unemployment Insurance

NCDOL does not handle matters relating to unemployment insurance. If you would like information about unemployment insurance programs, please contact the N.C. Industrial Commission, 4340 Mail Service Center, Raleigh, NC 27609-4540; 919-737-2500; www.ncic.nc.gov. Form 17 must be prominently posted and must be printed in the same colors and format that appear on the Industrial Commission website. To download and print the current version of Form 17, visit www.ncic.nc.gov.

N.C. Workers' Compensation Notice to Injured Workers and Employers (Form 17)
